Your help

"Jessica, it's time to let us help."

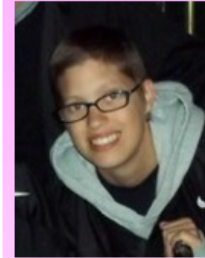

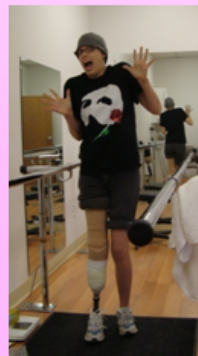

Everyone was shocked when 20 year old Jessica found out she had cancer. Since then, we've seen Jessica be so independent and determined, it's not easy knowing how to help.

In two short years, Jessica has fought this cancer and has been frustrated by many complications. What began as a tumor on her bone led to many surgeries, amputation, chemo, heart surgery, and kidney complications. Based on her last surgery, her prosthesis will need to be reworked and rehab will start all over again. With all the current and, unfortunately, upcoming medical expenses, this is the time Jessica and her family need us.

In the midst of her struggles, Jessica is still working to finish her degree. She can't wait to drive a car and polka with her friends again. Truly, she shows us how brave and sweet go together.

*"Jessica,
you've made it
through so much."*

We want to see you reach the rest of your goals."
